

FOODSUP – WWW Module

DG Animals, Plants and Foodstuffs
 Staff Service ICT

(last modification: 18/11/2020)

The WWW-Module of FOODSUP allows the public to consult the notified products. It is possible to search on the name of the responsible company and/or the name of the product or parts of these. A part from that, searches can also be done based on the notification number of the product. The notification number of the product may be mentioned in the labelling of the product but that is not a legal obligation.

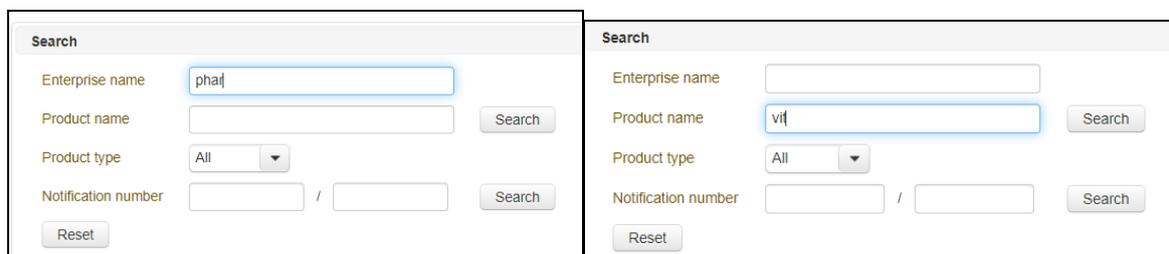

Searching on the name of the company and/or the name of the product

The screenshot shows the search interface with the following fields filled: Enterprise name: phar, Product name: vit. The search results table is empty, displaying "No record found".

Number	Product type	Enterprise name	Product name
No record found

This search will return all products from a company with “phar” in its name and “vit” in the name of the product. It is possible to leave one of this fields open and search only on the name of the company or on the name of the product.

The left screenshot shows the search criteria: Enterprise name: phar, Product name: (empty). The right screenshot shows the search criteria: Enterprise name: (empty), Product name: vit.

In the database it is possible to find three types of results for files studied after mid-November 2020:

- Products with a notification number and without a logo = products which no major non-conformity has been detected in the submitted file;
- Products with a notification number and with this logo  = files which a complementary assessment is ongoing;
- Products with a notification number and with this logo  = files which at least one non-conformity has been detected in the submitted file. These products cannot be marketed until they have been brought into conformity. When the product is brought into conformity, the orange triangle logo is removed after a positive re-evaluation of the file.

Searching by product type

Several types of products are referenced in the FoodSup database. It is possible to filter the results by selecting from the drop-down menu :

- Either FS/FF, for food supplements and fortified foodstuffs
- Or FSG, for foodstuffs intended for specific groups (infant formulae, food for special medical purposes, etc.).

The screenshot shows a search interface titled "Search". It contains the following elements:

- Enterprise name: A text input field.
- Product name: A text input field with a "Search" button to its right.
- Product type: A dropdown menu currently showing "All". A dropdown menu is open below it, listing "All", "FS/FF", and "FSG".
- Notification number: A text input field followed by a slash "/" and another text input field, with a "Search" button to the right.
- Reset: A button located at the bottom left of the search area.
